Von Hindenburg Dissolves German Reichstag

BRUENING IS NOW MODIFIED DICTATOR OF LAND

TO CARRY OUT FINANCIAL REFORMS WITHIN 90 DAYS' PERIOD

REICHSTAG HAD DEFIED PRESIDENT, NEW REICHSTAG TO CONVENE BEFORE OCT. 14

Berlin, July 18.—(U.P.)—President Paul von Hindenburg dissolved the German Reichstag today.

The dissolution left Chancellor Heinrich Brüning at the head of a modified dictatorship in Germany for a period of not more than 90 days. The German constitution provides that new elections must be called within 60 days after the dissolution of the Reichstag, and the new Reichstag must meet within 30 days after the elections.

The dissolution was ordered to permit Brüning to carry out his financial reforms, which the Reichstag has fought for months.

President von Hindenburg dissolved the Reichstag after that body had defied him by rescinding the "tax reform dictatorship" he previously had bestowed on Brüning. The vote was 290 to 221, with no abstentions.

It was announced general elections would be held before Sept. 14 and a new Reichstag convened before Oct. 14.

Berlin, July 18.—The German Reichstag convened at 10 A. M. today in what may be an historic session for the discussion of Chancellor Heinrich Brüning's decrees under the "tax dictatorship."

The assembly of the Reichstag found the nationalist party, which had sought to bargain with Brüning for its support at the crucial session, completely split.

Count Westarp headed a group of 21 nationalists, who withdrew from a party caucus because they were unwilling to join with other nationalists in a fight to overthrow the cabinet and force the Reichstag's dissolution and general elections on the basis of a fight against President Paul von Hindenburg's dictatorial tax reform decrees.

Industrialists and farmers were represented among the seceded group. The act of the seceding nationalists indicated they considered the party's rupture definite.

Dr. Hugenberg, leader of the nationalist party, had sought in conversations with Brüning last night to obtain six demands in exchange for his party's support in the Reichstag today. Among the demands was that preparations begin immediately for abolition of the Young plan, and that nationalists be given a place in the cabinet.

Brüning refused to accept the demands, and the 21 nationalists seceded from the party.

Brüning entered the Reichstag chambers shortly before the body convened this morning, bearing under his arm a portfolio containing the decree of dissolution, which he was ready to promulgate if it appeared that the cabinet would be defeated.

The power to dissolve the Reichstag was granted by President von Hindenburg under article 48 of the German constitution when Brüning found it impossible to force through his financial reforms.

Minister of Defense Wilhelm Groener and Minister of Finance Hermann Dietrich were seated on either side of the chancellor.

STEAMER STRIKES ICEBERG, IS HELD FAST BY LEDGE

London, July 18.—(U.P.)—The British steamer Dalryan, en route to Montreal from Swansea, struck an iceberg and is still held fast on a "ledge" in the berg, according to Lloyd's.

The Dalryan ran head on into the iceberg. She gave her position as approximately 51.50 north and 55.55 west, and reported that two holds were shipping water. Repairs are being completed while the vessel is still on the ice. An attempt to pull away will be made when the weather clears.

The steamship Athenia is standing by, Lloyd's said.

GERMAN STEAMER TARGIS ON FIRE IN MID-ATLANTIC

Berlin, July 18.—(U.P.)—The German steamer Targis, of 6,000 tons, was afire today and reported sinking in mid-Atlantic about 1,500 miles southwest of the Azores.

The British steamer Yangtania, 18,000 tons, rescued the crew and passengers of the Targis. The Targis was en route from the west coast of South America to Bremen.

EGYPT QUIET AFTER A BRIEF OUTBREAK IN NIGHT

Cairo, July 18.—(U.P.)—Egypt was quiet today after a brief outbreak at Alexandria last night which was handled without difficulty.

The outbreak, apparently related to the bloody riots which affected all parts of Alexandria simultaneously Tuesday, lasted only a short while before police succeeded in quelling the disturbers and arresting the leaders.

The British battleships, Queen Elizabeth and Ramillies, were expected here today.

TWO STATES ASK TO REOPEN THE MERGER CASE

WASHINGTON JOINS WITH MINNESOTA STATE IN THE APPEAL

DECLARE UNEMPLOYMENT FOR 37,000 WOULD FOLLOW G. N. P. MERGER

Olympia, Wash., July 18.—(U.P.)—Reopening of the proposal of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads to consolidate was asked of the interstate commerce commission today by the Washington department of public works.

The department joined with the Minnesota railroad commission in asking a rehearing of the case and in protesting that the ruling of the interstate commerce commission was against public interest.

The railroads two years ago sought permission to consolidate, which was granted with certain restrictions.

The Minnesota petition, in which Washington joined today, declared that curtailment of train service, abandonment of terminals and divisions and unemployment for 37,000 workmen would follow the consolidation, and that eastern stockholders in the companies would be the only persons benefited.

GRAHAM RIDES AIR MAIL AGAIN

FRIENDLY HANDS WILL SPREAD HIS ASHES TO THE FOUR WINDS

Los Angeles, July 18.—(U.P.)—Maury Graham will ride the air mail again today.

Out in the cool summer air of the mountains he loved, where six months ago a raging blizzard claimed his life, friendly hands will spread his ashes to the four winds—the winds he rode so many years as a skilled and courageous air mail pilot.

Graham's body, located in the mountains near Cedar City, Utah, was brought back to Los Angeles last night in a Western Air Express plane piloted by Jimmy James and Fred W. Kelly, two of his best pals.

This afternoon simple funeral services will be held by Masonic and military organizations, and then his ashes will be placed in an urn for Graham's last riding through the skies.

Kelly, piloting the regular night air mail plane from Los Angeles to Salt Lake City, will take the urn with him. Over the mountains where Graham died in his last effort to bring his mail through a blinding storm, but transformed now into a picturesque land of green hills, the ashes will be scattered.

HUNTER BROTHERS TO KEEP RECORD

IF JACKSON AND O'BRIEN WIN, THEY HOPE TO RETRIEVE SAME

St. Louis, July 18.—(U.P.)—The Hunter brothers, John and Kenneth, will keep their endurance record in the family, they said here today, and if Dale Jackson and Forrest O'Brien are successful in their contemplated refueling endurance flight, the Hunters will make an attempt to get the record right back.

Here on their way to California to fill theatrical engagements, the Hunters said they did not intend to let 553-hour record get away from them.

"We're all set to go right after the record if Jackson and O'Brien hang up a new one," Albert said.

"We'll be right on their tails," John added.

Asked concerning the Jackson-O'Brien flight, scheduled to start here next week, John said "it's a long ride."

The four, John and Kenneth who piloted the endurance plane, and Albert and Walter who piloted the refueling ship, are accompanied by their sister Irene, who cooked for the flyers, and by John's wife.

Solution of Lingle Murder Believed Near, Asserted a Woman Saw Killer Fire Shot

STATE'S ATTORNEY JOHN A. SWANSON IN A STATEMENT

AN UNNAMED WOMAN EYE-WITNESS TO GIVE HER TESTIMONY

NOW REGARDED AS KEY WITNESS IN THE FAMOUS CASE

Chicago, July 18.—(U.P.)—State's Attorney John A. Swanson announced today that a solution of the murder of Alfred J. Lingle, Chicago Tribune crime reporter, has been obtained through an unnamed woman eye-witness.

"She saw the killer shoot Lingle," Swanson said.

The experience caused the woman to suffer a nervous breakdown and she is under the care of a physician, the state's attorney said.

Swanson's announcement was made with evident jubilation at the possibilities opened by discovery of the witness.

"We regard her as the 'key' to the Lingle killing," he said. "It is the tangible progress we have made toward solving the mystery."

Because, he said, it might hamper the investigation started by the mystery woman's story, Swanson would not say whether the slayer had been identified.

Neither would he give details of the witness' story, or reveal whether a motive had been found.

"The woman is a 'key' witness. We cannot give the details of her story," Swanson said.

The announcement immediately opened up a flood of speculation as to the woman's identity.

It was recalled that a woman witness was brought into the case during the first stages of the Lingle investigation, but her connection never was explained.

She was believed to be at the time an Irene Kelly, of Minneapolis. Again it was said the name was falsified to throw amateur investigators off the trail. One of the stories told of her was that she was from Los Angeles, and knew Frankie Foster, purchaser of the gun with which Lingle was believed slain.

Foster subsequently was extradited from California, and detectives are due in Chicago with him tomorrow.

The woman dropped from public knowledge until today's development. However, the state's attorney did relate the witness' experiences leading up to the time when the shooting occurred in the Randolph Street Illinois Central subway June 9.

She had been involved in a minor automobile accident in the loop about noon on the day Lingle was slain, according to Swanson, and had gone to the office of a physician near the subway. While ascending in an elevator, Swanson said, she had witnessed an accident in which a boy crushed his hand.

Soon after leaving the building, she

INFORMAL VOTE OF STOCKHOLDERS ON RAIL MERGER

St. Paul, July 18.—(U.P.)—The way was cleared today for an informal vote by stockholders of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads on continuance of merger negotiations.

Stock on deposit with the merger committee can be withdrawn by holders after a decision by the committee yesterday. No further effort toward consummating its attitude on the matter.

In the six months interim the informal vote will go on. If the majority of stockholders withdraw their stock from deposit, it is understood that negotiations will be called off.

saw Lingle's slayer shoot him down from behind inside the subway.

How much she saw, and how well she remembered what she saw, the state's attorney said he would keep secret.

The experiences she underwent within the space of less than two hours have left her in a highly nervous state, and a physician is almost constantly at her side, Swanson explained. She will not discuss the Lingle killing, he added, except in the presence of her attorney. She has discussed it with Swanson's investigators, and the state's attorney indicated she had talked without restraint.

The woman, said Swanson, will be guarded closely, to quiet her fear that she would be a target of gangster guns.

St. Louis, Mo., July 18.—Harry T. Brundidge, reporter for the St. Louis Star, in a copyright story from Miami, Fla., today said that Al Capone, Chicago gang leader, had given him the friendly advice to "lay off Chicago and the money hungry reporters."

Brundidge quoted Capone as telling him that there were "plenty" newspapermen on the gang leader's payroll, said that "suddenly the big beer and bullet baron leaned over, put his left arm around my shoulders and with typical Latin affection, squeezed me and said:

"Listen, Harry, I like you face. Let me give you a hot tip. Lay off Chicago and the money hungry reporters. 'You're right and because you're right, you're wrong."

"You can't buck it, not even with the backing of your newspaper, because it is too big a proposition. 'No one man will ever realize just how big it is, so lay off."

TWO CHICAGO BANDITS FIRE ON POLICE CAPTORS

KILL ONE, SERIOUSLY WOUND THE OTHER, AND EFFECT ESCAPE

TWO ROBBERS WERE HOLDING UP A GARAGE WHEN OFFICERS ENTERED

Chicago, July 18.—(U.P.)—Two bandits who were captured holding up a garage and were being held awaiting arrival of a patrol wagon suddenly drew guns today, shot down the two police who had arrested them, killing one and seriously wounding the other, and escaped.

The policeman killed was John Guiltanane, who was shot through the head. His companion, Officer Anthony P. Wistort, was shot through the abdomen and it was feared his wound would prove fatal.

Several hours later police arrested Harry Yetter, former convict, as he was entering the home of Marjorie Gossett. Yetter had been shot twice, once in the arm, once in the leg, and police said he confessed the wounds were received in battling the police.

He had a small calibre pistol of the same size that was used in killing Guiltanane. He told the officers he had been drunk.

Another suspect arrested at the same time refused to give his name.

Guiltanane and Wistort had been looking for the two men in a small sedan, only one light of which was burning, who had held up an oil station earlier today.

The officers decided to visit the Morgan Park Auto Sales Agency in the belief the bandits might have gone there to have their auto headlight repaired.

When the officers stepped into the garage they discovered one of the bandits holding up Elsie Alford, negro night porter. Surprised from behind by the officers, the bandit surrendered without offering resistance and his companion, who was waiting outside, also surrendered immediately.

The bandits handed over their guns as Policeman Fred Jergun, on patrol duty, walked past. Guiltanane and Wistort asked Jergun to call a patrol wagon for them and stood with the prisoners awaiting Jergun's return.

Suddenly, both bandits drew concealed guns and fired upon the officers. Both policemen dropped instantly. Jergun, a block away, heard the shooting and ran back to the garage, but the bandits had escaped, leaving their car at the curb.

In a side pocket of the auto, Jergun found a license card made out to Andrew Vanosky and another card indicating Vanosky had recently been paroled from prison.

BRUNDIDGE SEES AL CAPONE IN MIAMI

St. Louis, Mo., July 18.—Harry T. Brundidge, reporter for the St. Louis Star, in a copyright story from Miami, Fla., today said that Al Capone, Chicago gang leader, had given him the friendly advice to "lay off Chicago and the money hungry reporters."

Brundidge quoted Capone as telling him that there were "plenty" newspapers on the gang leader's payroll, that Chicago police knew who killed Lingle, murdered Tribune reporter, and that he, Capone, is "through with the racket."

Brundidge is to appear before a Cook county grand jury Tuesday prepared to elaborate on charges he made in a series of articles that several Chicago newspapermen are engaged in racketeering practices.

After discussing the assassination of Lingle and activities of some other Chicago newspapermen, Brundidge said that "suddenly the big beer and bullet baron leaned over, put his left arm around my shoulders and with typical Latin affection, squeezed me and said:

"Listen, Harry, I like you face. Let me give you a hot tip. Lay off Chicago and the money hungry reporters."

PREDICTS HOOVER TO BE RE-ELECTED, PROSPERITY BACK

SENATOR ROYAL S. COPELAND DELIVERS NEW YORK ADDRESS

CONFINES HIS TALK MAINLY TO ECONOMIC TREND OF COUNTRY

New York, July 18.—(U.P.)—President Hoover will be re-elected in 1932 with the return of prosperity to the United States, Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York, said in an address before the business stability conference of the garment trades last night.

Confining his talk mainly to the economic trend of the country, Sen. Copeland advocated the six-hour day and five-day week, condemned speculation, chain stores and branch banks and then predicted the re-election of President Hoover with the return of prosperity in 1932.

He said that America is not suffering from depression any worse than are European countries, but the United States, he declared is "as near the economic bottom as a country can go."

The wreckers removed a rail from the track, endangering the lives of a score of persons aboard the nine-car train.

Carl Block, 35, of Clinton, Okla., died in a hospital here today of injuries suffered in the wreck.

Pete Lee, 19, Paducah, Texas, was in a critical condition at a hospital with his right foot amputated and his left leg broken.

Block and Lee were riding "blind" on the train between the locomotive and the baggage car.

50 ARE DEAD IN AN EARTHQUAKE NEAR RANGOON, BURMA

Rangoon, Burma, July 18.—(U.P.)—Fifty casualties were reported today from a severe earthquake in the Tharawaddy district, 60 miles north of Rangoon.

Many houses collapsed from the earth's tremors, and the village of Letpadan was shaken badly.

TWO CHICAGO BANDITS FIRE ON POLICE CAPTORS

KILL ONE, SERIOUSLY WOUND THE OTHER, AND EFFECT ESCAPE

TWO ROBBERS WERE HOLDING UP A GARAGE WHEN OFFICERS ENTERED

Chicago, July 18.—(U.P.)—Two bandits who were captured holding up a garage and were being held awaiting arrival of a patrol wagon suddenly drew guns today, shot down the two police who had arrested them, killing one and seriously wounding the other, and escaped.

The policeman killed was John Guiltanane, who was shot through the head. His companion, Officer Anthony P. Wistort, was shot through the abdomen and it was feared his wound would prove fatal.

Several hours later police arrested Harry Yetter, former convict, as he was entering the home of Marjorie Gossett. Yetter had been shot twice, once in the arm, once in the leg, and police said he confessed the wounds were received in battling the police.

He had a small calibre pistol of the same size that was used in killing Guiltanane. He told the officers he had been drunk.

Another suspect arrested at the same time refused to give his name. Guiltanane and Wistort had been looking for the two men in a small sedan, only one light of which was burning, who had held up an oil station earlier today.

The officers decided to visit the Morgan Park Auto Sales Agency in the belief the bandits might have gone there to have their auto headlights repaired.

When the officers stepped into the garage they discovered one of the bandits holding up Eliza Alford, negro night porter. Surprised from behind by the officers, the bandit surrendered without offering resistance and his companion, who was waiting outside, also surrendered immediately.

The bandits handed over their guns as Policeman Fred Jergum, on patrol duty, walked past. Guiltanane and Wistort asked Jergum to call a patrol wagon for them and stood with the prisoners awaiting Jergum's return.

Suddenly, both bandits drew concealed guns and fired upon the officers. Both policemen dropped instantly. Jergum, a block away, heard the shooting and ran back to the garage, but the bandits had escaped, leaving their car at the curb.

In a side pocket of the auto, Jergum found a license card made out to Andrew Vanosky and another card indicating Vanosky had recently been paroled from prison.

The forecast for today and tomorrow is: "Cooler tonight and Saturday with local showers and thunderstorms probable." A drop of 10 degrees in temperature is predicted.

Canadian provinces yesterday had general rains with temperatures dropping as low as 38 degrees in Edmonton, Alberta. Nearly an inch of precipitation was recorded at The Pas, Man.

High temperatures were registered from all points of the northwest yesterday. South Dakota had temperatures around the 100 mark. Pierre reported 102, Huron 96 while Iowa had similar temperatures with 100 at Des Moines.

In the Twin Cities today the mercury had climbed to 80 at 10 A. M. from 64 at 6 A. M. Another day of temperatures in the nineties was expected.

Many of the smaller craft were sunk by the heavy seas caused by the typhoon and their crews were reported lost.

Nagasaki, Japan, July 18.—A typhoon struck Nagasaki today, killing 10 persons and laying waste large stretches of land. Ten buildings were demolished and many more badly damaged.

The famous Hachiman shrine near Fukuoka collapsed after the first onslaught of the typhoon. For many years the shrine has been a religious center and the Mecca of Japanese pilgrims.

TWO ESCAPE FROM EPILEPTIC COLONY, DROWN IN RIVER

St. Paul, July 18.—(U.P.)—Bodies of two boys who were drowned while attempting escape from the state epileptic colony at Cambridge were recovered today. C. J. Swendsen, of the state board of control, was informed.

Those drowned were Elmer Bollingmore, 20, Ferguson Falls, and Waino Maki, 11, Virginia. A third youth, James Moran, 14, accompanied the two but escaped drowning.

The boys attempted to navigate the Run river in an old boat which overturned. Bollingmore and Maki were unable to swim and drowned while Moran swam to shore.

Moran reached Minneapolis before being picked up by an officer. He was returned to Cambridge where he told authorities of the drowning.

St. Paul, Minn., July 18.—(U.P.)—Chas. Loring, Crookston attorney, will become commissioner of the Minnesota supreme court August 1, succeeding Commissioner Myron D. Taylor resigned, Chief Justice Samuel B. Wilson announced.

Commissioner Taylor had served since 1913 and is 74 years old. Failing health was given as the reason for his retirement. He came to Minnesota from Maine as a child and practiced law in St. Cloud in 1881. He served three terms as district judge before being appointed court commissioner.

FRIDAY, JULY 18, 1936
City Finances

CITY FINANCES OF BRAINERD are in most admirable shape. The city has no apologies to make. It is adhering to a plan to keep taxes at a reasonable figure, to retire bonded indebtedness, to make necessary improvements and to maintain the city on a good substantial basis. Bond payments and bond interest are scrupulously met. That is why Brainerd bonds sell at a premium.

Some three years ago City Attorney D. H. Fullerton addressed the Brainerd Rotary club on city finances and displayed a chart giving approximate figures in various funds, etc. Last meeting of Rotary Mr. Fullerton spoke again on the topic and the figures he showed gave in graphic form the advancement noted in sound financial affairs of the city.

We shall take first the figures of three years ago. The total assets then were $1,615,750. At the close of 1929 they were $1,707,000. The total liabilities three years ago were $556,900. Today the total liabilities are $441,820. Net assets have increased from $1,058,850 to $1,265,180.

Three years ago assets of the water and light board were as follows: water plant $430,000; light plant $100,000; street lighting system $27,600; real estate $16,600, a total of $574,200.

Paving 10 miles was estimated worth $148,000; sewer mains 20 miles $245,000; curbing and walks $147,750; city hall and fire hall $75,000; fire department equipment $10,000.

In the park department Gregory park was valued at $45,000; Lam $20,000 and the Tourist park $4,500, a total of $69,500. The library building was valued at $15,000, books and equipment $16,500, a total of $31,500.

City miscellaneous lands were valued at $6,400. Today these assets have increased and are valued as follows: Water and light department water plant $461,030; light plant and street lighting system $165,070; real estate $26,040, a total of $552,140.

Paving 10 miles is estimated at $148,000; sewer mains now 22 miles $255,000; curbing and walks $148,000; city hall and fire hall $75,000; fire department equipment $10,000.

In the park department the Tourist park increased $500 in value, library books and equipment $500. City miscellaneous land remained at $6,400.

In liabilities water and light bonds of $322,500 have been reduced to $300,000. These are paid by earnings and not taxes.

Paying bonds show remarkable decreases. Three years ago the figures read revolving fund $42,000; improvement fund $61,200; state bonds $25,000, a total of $128,200. Today they read revolving fund $15,000; improvement fund $31,400; state bonds $25,000, a total of $71,400.

Sewer bonds, which were $45,700, are now $41,700. City hall and fire hall remain at $75,000. The reserve for bond payment has risen from $14,500 to $46,250.

In 1924 Minnesota State Tax Commissioner's statement of cities of 5,000 to 10,000 population per capita tax, average of all cities, was $29.95. Brainerd has less than one-fourth or $6.95.

The comparative city tax rate under the present charter, 1918 to 1926 inclusive, is an average of 24.57 mills, about three years ago it was 24.15 mills, and later 22.75 mills.

Calvin Coolidge as a Columnist

CALVIN COOLIDGE, former president of the United States, is gaining fame as a columnist. Lately he started writing a short article for the daily press. He knows the art of concentration, having served an apprenticeship of writing a 500 word history of the United States to be carved on the granite side of a Dakota mountain.

A man as taciturn as the former president never opens his mouth unless he has something to say. Any utterances of Mr. Coolidge, written or verbal, are always worthwhile and to the point. He is never verbose or flowery or involved in diction. He writes as he speaks, clearly and concisely.

Much comment has been accorded a recent article of the ex-president in his column and the Dispatch reprints from the front page mention accorded this article by the Wadena Pioneer Journal.

"This country was not made on the theory that we should 'eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow we die.' Its founders were more accustomed to prepare themselves with fasting and prayer that they might meet the serious obligation to live through the morrow. They had their feast days too, for they found great happiness in their work. But these were a time for thanksgiving and praise.

"Instead of falling back and falling down on the claim that the world owed them a living they moved forward and moved on on the principle that they owed the world the duty of providing for themselves. They sought to live in the things of the spirit. They put first things first. They set small store on the things that are temporal but strove mightily for the things that are eternal.

"If this Nation is to endure we shall have to continue to walk by their light. We cannot give all our thought to material success. We cannot be relieved of all hardships. We should not faint at the first obstacle. We must accept the lot of finite human beings and with deeper faith and higher courage work out our own salvation through our own sacrifice."

ONLY six civil war veterans are left in St. Cloud. The seventh man, Fred Reed, 80, died at his home this week. He served as a member of the First Pennsylvania Buck Tail volunteers and later with the 65th New York Infantry.

ST. CLOUD'S new municipal golf links will be dedicated August 1. It is a nine hole course.

WAGNER, MADLAND WIN PEQUOT POSTS
Wagner Indicates He Will Withdraw in Favor of Mrs. E. W. Marshall
An extremely close vote in the school election at Pequot brought about the unusual situation. The names of Mrs. H. N. Everhart, Dr. Robt. S. Madland and Benn Wagner appeared on the ballot, and friends of Mrs. E. W. Marshall made a campaign for her and wrote her name on the ballot. The result announced by the school was as follows:
Mrs. H. N. Everhart, 29; Dr. Robt. S. Madland, 21; Benn Wagner, 30; Mrs. E. W. Marshall, 27.
The announcement was made that Dr. Robt. Madland and Benn Wagner were elected, and the meeting adjourned. However, on six of the ballots, the name of Mrs. Marshall was written in but no cross mark was placed after it. These ballots were not counted for her, but they mean, she would have had 33 votes, and she and Dr. Madland would have been elected.

Many believe that since the writing of the name showed the intention of the voter these ballots should count for Mrs. Marshall, while others hold that failure to cross mark the name made it improper for the voter to count the ballot for her. There was no particular interest in the business meeting that preceded the election, but apparently there had been considerable quiet canvassing for votes.
In a statement after the election Mr. Wagner said, "While there is a legal question as to the proper counting of the ballots, the Pequot school board has no doubt that a sufficient number of voters intended to cast their ballots for Mrs. E. W. Marshall. Since that is the case, it seems to me that she should have the place on the school board, and I expect to present my resignation at the next board meeting in the hope that the board will appoint her to the vacancy."

The name of the first Indian newspaper publisher was Shau-wah-ko-Koathwan, which means "The Shawnee Sun." It was published March 1, 1855, and was issued semi-monthly. The comparative city tax rate under the present charter, 1918 to 1926 inclusive, is an average of 24.57 mills, about three years ago it was 24.15 mills, and later 22.75 mills.

Calvin Coolidge as a Columnist
CALVIN COOLIDGE, former president of the United States, is gaining fame as a columnist. Lately he started writing a short article for the daily press. He knows the art of concentration, having served an apprenticeship of writing a 500 word history of the United States to be carved on the granite side of a Dakota mountain.
A man as taciturn as the former president never opens his mouth unless he has something to say. Any utterances of Mr. Coolidge, written or verbal, are always worthwhile and to the point. He is never verbose or flowery or involved in diction. He writes as he speaks, clearly and concisely.
Much comment has been accorded a recent article of the ex-president in his column in the Dispatch reprints from the front page mention accorded this article by the Wadena Pioneer Journal.
"This country was not made on the theory that we should 'eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow we die.' Its founders were more accustomed to prepare themselves with fasting and prayer that they might meet the serious obligation to live through the morning. They had their days to go, for they found great happiness in their work. But these were a time for thanksgiving and praise.
"Instead of falling back and falling down on the claim that the world owed them a living they moved forward and moved on the principle that they owed the world the duty of providing for themselves. They sought to live in the things of the spirit. They put first things first. They set small store on the things that are temporal but strove mightily for the things that are eternal.
"If this Nation is to endure we shall have to continue to walk by their light. We cannot give all our thought to material success. We cannot be relieved of all hardships. We should not faint at the first obstacle. We must accept the lot of finite human beings and with deeper faith and higher courage work out our own salvation through our own sacrifice."

ONLY six civil war veterans are left in St. Cloud. The seventh man, Fred Reed, 80, died at his home this week. He served as a member of the First Pennsylvania Buck Tail volunteers and later with the 85th New York Infantry.

ST. CLOUD's new municipal golf links will be dedicated August 1. It is a nine hole course.

Natural Gas Not for Autos
The bureau of standards says that automobiles could be run successfully on natural gas, but the gas would have to be compressed into steel cylinders, which would add considerable weight. The amount of natural gas equivalent to five gallons of gasoline would require enormous containers if it were not compressed.

WAGNER, MADLAND WIN PEQUOT POSTS

Wagner Indicates He Will Withdraw In Favor of Mrs. E. W. Marshall
An extremely close vote in the school election at Pequot brought about the unusual situation. The names of Mrs. H. N. Everhart, Dr. Robt. S. Madland and Benn Wagner appeared on the ballot, and friends of Mrs. E. W. Marshall made a campaign for her and wrote her name on the ballot. The result announced by the clerks was as follows:
Mrs. H. N. Everhart, 29; Dr. Robt. S. Madland, 31; Benn Wagner, 30; Mrs. E. W. Marshall, 27.
The announcement was made that Dr. Robt. Madland and Benn Wagner were elected, and the meeting ad- journed. However, on six of the bal- lots, the name of Mrs. Marshall was written in but no cross mark was placed after it. These ballots were not counted for her, but had they been, she would have had 33 votes, and she and Dr. Madland would have been elected.
Many believe that since the writing of the name showed the intention of the voter these ballots should count for Mrs. Marshall, while others hold that failure to cross mark the name made it improper for the voters to count the ballot for a student num- ber of voters intended to cast their ballots for Mrs. E. W. Marshall. Since the election, it seems that she should have the place on the school board, and I expect to present my resignation at the next board meet- ing in the hope that the board will appoint her to the vacancy."

AL SINGER, NEW LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMPION OF THE WORLD

KNOCKS OUT MANDELL IN FIRST ROUND

35,000 CUSTOMERS RAISE JOYFUL DIN AT THE YANKEE STADIUM

NEVER HAD THE LIGHTWEIGHT CROWN CHANGED HANDS SO QUICKLY

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, July 18. — Al Singer, a slender, dark-haired, solemn-visaged youth from the crowded upper reaches of New York City, the Bronx, is the new lightweight champion of the world.

Singer knocked out Sammy Mandell, the fading title-holder from Rockford, Ill., in the first round of their scheduled 15-round bout at Yankee Stadium last night, while a majority of the 35,000 customers, most of them of the new champion's Hebrew persuasion, raised a joyful and hilarious din in the big ball park.

Never before had the lightweight heritage of fistic heroes from Jack McAuliffe down through Benny Leonard, changed hands so suddenly and unexpectedly.

BYES, PENNEYS TO PLAY FOR CITY D-BALL TITLE

Mandell, wan with the effort of making the class limit of 135 pounds, failed to put up the first semblance of a fight in defense of his title. Dropped by a snappy left hook to the jaw in less than a minute of fighting in the first round, Sammy was a helpless and ready victim for the eager New Yorker.

Four more times, Mandell, scarcely able to raise his hands, went down, taking the final count stretched flat in the resin, knocked out by a crushing one-two punch to the jaw. The end came one minute and 6 seconds after the opening bell. Sammy was carried to his corner while Singer, raised to the heights of a championship after less than three full years in the ring, danced with joy.

Acrostics Old

An acrostic is a short stanza so constructed that the initial letters of the lines, taken consecutively, form words. Such verse is of great antiquity, having been common in ancient Greece and Rome.

TO MEET TONIGHT AT THE MUNICIPAL GROUNDS AT 6:30

BYES ENTER FINALS BY VIRTUE OF 24-8 VICTORY OVER OILERS IN GAME LAST NIGHT

PENNEYS DEFEAT MESCHKE'S IN SEMI-FINALS; CUP ON DIS-PLAY AT DISPATCH

Playing a strong offensive game the John M. Bye Clothing Co. defeated the Sinclair Oils in the semi-finals last night at the Municipal ball grounds, 24 to 8. This entitles them to the play-off tonight for the city championship and silver trophy at the same grounds with the J. C. Penney Co., winners of the semi-finals Wednesday with the Meschke team.

A silver loving cup to be awarded the city champions, winner of tonight's game, is now on display at the Dispatch office.

Fans are looking forward to one of the most interesting games of the year tonight. Both teams are on edge, the Penney's having won 13 out of 15 games played and the Byes winning 11 out of 14.

Winning last night's game from the Sinclairs by such a large margin makes the Bye team a strong threat for the championship. The Sinclairs recently were the only team to beat the Penney's, scoring 2 to 1 to win. The game will start this evening at 6:30 P. M. Batteries for Penney's: Foster and Raffdol. For Byes: Bic Ericsson and Flaata.

The game last night was a loose fielding affair with errors by the Sinclairs contributing to the score. Byes hit the offerings of Thompson and Wise for 21 hits and 24 scores, the Sinclairs touching Bic Ericsson for 7 hits and 8 scores. Louis Hanson, Goedderz and Ericsson hit home runs. Batteries were: Sinclairs, Thompson, Wise and Fitzsimmons; Byes, Bic Ericsson and Flaata. Umpires—Orth and F. Lind.

Score by innings:

CARNERA USES "STEAM ROLLER" TACTICS AT OMAHA

KNOCKS "BEARCAT" WRIGHT OUT OF RING IN LAST NIGHT'S FIGHT

FINALLY FLATTENS HIM FOR THE COUNT IN THE 4TH ROUND

Omaha, Neb., July 18.—(U.P.) — Big Primo Carnera, Italian heavyweight, used steam roller tactics last night on "Bearcat" Wright, Omaha negro, knocking Wright out of the ring and finally flattening him for the count in the fourth round.

Wright, who appeared big until Carnera entered the ring beside him, managed to slip through the first round without serious injuries.

That, however, was about the end of his night's work, which was to have lasted 10 rounds. Carnera whittled the negro down during the third and early in the fourth round sent Wright through the ropes. The negro's body snapped the lower rope, carrying it dangling with him.

Referee Miller of Chicago counted 22 before Wright was in a position to carry on, but ruled the fight was not over because the Italian failed to go to a neutral corner. Carnera came up with another right to the chin and Wright was counted out while he writhed on the canvas.

LITTLE FALLS WINS LEGION TOURNEY

DOWN ST. CLOUD 16-4 IN FINALS; BRAINERD BEATS REMER, 3-1, IN NIGHTCAP

Little Falls Junior baseball team will represent the Sixth district in the state American Legion Junior baseball tournament to be held at Stillwater by virtue of their 16-4 victory over St. Cloud in the final game of the district tournament held at Koorling field here yesterday.

St. Cloud defeated Remer easily in a semi-final game in the morning yesterday by a score of 18-1. St. Cloud hit effectively and took advantage of the Remer pitcher's wildness to score almost at will.

Little Falls drew a bye in the morning and met St. Cloud in the finals in the afternoon. At the end of the second inning yesterday St. Cloud held a 4-0 advantage but the Little Falls batsmen soon began to find their hitting eyes and piled up a nice lead while holding St. Cloud scoreless for the rest of the contest. Johnson, Little Falls pitcher, scored 11 strikeouts. St. Cloud used three pitchers and two catchers.

Lester Peterson of Brainerd officiated.

After the final game of the tournament a pick-up team from the Brainerd Y. M. C. A. played Remer, losers of the morning round, in the nightcap. Brainerd won by a score of 3 to 1.

"WHERE'S EMILY?"

by CAROLYN WELLS

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR.
EMILY DUANE and her friend, Pauline Pennington, disappear on Emily's wedding rehearsal day. Emily had gone to visit the hospital, but never arrived there. After leaving the Duane home, Pauline also vanishes. Later, Pauline's body is found in the ravine, and, close by, Emily's scarf. Emily's aunt fears Emily will be accused of murder.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXI.

"YOU know," Mr. Garner said, through tightly drawn lips, "Mr. Sayre did not at all approve of Miss Emily's strange notions. He wanted everything right and proper, as it should be. May it not be that the two young people quarrelled over these matters, and that in her pettish way, Miss Duane flung herself out of the house and ran off to the home of some friend, where she is in hiding?"

"It may well be so, Mr. Garner," and Lamb nodded his head affirmatively. "Doubtless your assumption is correct. We must inquire among her friends."

Mr. Garner looked closely at the young man, but could see no gleam of sarcasm in his courteous expression, and after a few more banalities of sympathy and unctuous proffers of help, the reverend gentleman went his way.

Also came the Swami.

Neil appropriated him, Betty making no objection, and Pete Gibby joined the pair, for he had a distinct distrust of His Hinduship, and much desired to watch him.

"Give us your ideas and advice, won't you, Lal Singh?" Pete said, pleasantly. "What do you think became of Miss Duane?"

"I think it is a freakish prank to annoy and tease her lover, the good Mr. Sayre."

"Oh, you do. Going pretty far in a prankish line to disappear just before her wedding day?"

"Yes, yes, but Miss Duane went far, always. She was the far-going sort."

"Don't say was, it annoys me. Yes, she is of the far-going sort. You know her fairly well, Lal Singh?"

"I know her not so well, but I know much of her."

"What sort of knowledge have you, sir?"

Neil was distinctly upset at Pete's questions, and indeed, at his being there at all, as she wanted the Hindu to herself.

"Let us alone, Pete," she said, crossly. "The Swami wants to talk to me."

"How do you know he does? I haven't heard him say so. Well, I'll clear out as soon as he answers my question."

Now, the Swami didn't at all like this gay young man whose off-hand manner and smiling eyes seemed ever mocking him.

So he decided to give him a "jolt," though he didn't know that expression at all.

"You perhaps know little of the young lady's gay ways?"

"I know all about her gay ways, and consider them delightful," Pete was getting very angry, but concluded to keep calm.

"I think not, sir," purred the soft Oriental voice, and the great dark eyes looked straight at him. "You know, then, of the escapades at Atlantic City?"

"Certainly," declared Pete, who hadn't the slightest idea of them.

"Ah—then I say no more."

And it was not necessary, for with a slight gesture of his long brown hands and a mingled expression of scorn, pity and mirth on his swarthy countenance, the Hindu shrugged his speaking shoulders and gave the impression that Emily was just about the worst ever.

But Pete Gibby's temper was under his own control. This was no time to pick a quarrel with this slimy son of the East. He must be put in his place, Pete saw that, but just now it was nearing the time for the inquest, and they must soon be starting.

So Pete walked away, leaving Neil to her coveted tete-a-tete.

so promised a new thrill. But this idea was not expressed. Only murmurs of conventional sorrow and sympathy were heard as the audience filed to their seats. All were dressed appropriately in tailored street gowns or modified sports clothes. No bright colors, yet no undue somberness. Oh, the Hilldale people knew a thing or two.

Perhaps none noticed this so much as Gibby. But to him it seemed a poignant, impromptu but successful, and the solemn Swami and the ascetic clergyman added the last touch to the picture.

The coroner was a man of dignity and poise. He would be, of course.

The jury was a joy to look upon. A handful of Hilldale's best citizens, all calm and at ease, awaited whatever might be the outcome of this new duty thrust upon them.

Indeed, savor faire was Hilldale's middle name, and there was no danger of any untoward occurrence.

Neil was enchanted. She looked about as if at an opera or play, but soon saw that an extra shade of decorum was the thing.

Betty was entirely oblivious to

"You know then," purred the soft Oriental voice, "of the escapades at Atlantic City?"

"I'm not going," Rodney had declared. "I shall stay here in case Emily returns. If they want to ask me any questions, let them do it over the telephone. Of course, if I'm cited or subpoenaed or whatever they call it, I'll go over, but in that case, Aunt Judy, you must come along. One of us must be here all the time."

"I don't think they'll want you, Rod," Lamb told him. "I think I can explain your absence; but if you must go over I'll bring Aunt Judy back here first."

Hilldale prided itself on its public buildings. The hospital was the newest, but the church, the library and the town hall were all fine and modern and were really gems of architecture, ornate and in good taste.

The inquest was to be in the town hall, and thither a large portion of the Hilldale population set out.

They were smart, astute, and clannish. Well bred, well fed and well read, they represented a community rather above the average. The men were keen, wise and well balanced. The women, for the most part, home-makers of efficiency and knowledge.

Today's affair was a novelty and the scene and thought only of the matter in hand.

The coroner, whose name was Winston, went through his preliminaries with gravity and dispatch.

He admitted the strange peculiarities of his inquest, and confessed that he had no witnesses, weapon, clues, evidence, criminal suspect, or even certainty of a crime.

But, he averred, there was an unexplained death, and inquiry into it must be made.

So, Hilldale being a law unto itself, inquiry was made.

Sergeant Murdock, who had discovered the body, told his story first.

"You thought the bridge rail was broken, did you?" asked Winston, fixing his calm gray eyes on the witness.

"I did sir, at first. But I found afterward that 'twas only the vines as was broken and tangled."

"Badly broken and tangled?"

"Very bad, sir."

"More pushed about than would be likely if one person had gone over that rail?"

"Yes, sir."

SEARCH FOR MISSING MAN NEAR GARRISON

Iver Santorp, Farm Hand, Disappeared Wednesday Evening Going After Cows

BOYS JOIN SEARCH

Sheriff Here is Notified and Has Description of Missing Man Broadcast

A searching party of 30 men were scouring a heavily wooded district near Garrison this afternoon looking for Iver Santorp, 55, a farm hand working for Frank O. Carlson, living a mile north of Garrison. Santorp was last seen Wednesday evening when he went to bring the Carlson cows back from pasture.

The cows were supposedly only a short distance from the farm house but were grazing in a heavily wooded region and it is thought that Santorp may have lost his way and strayed farther and farther away from home.

Santorp is described as a man 55 years of age, six feet tall, weighing 180 pounds. He has blue eyes, grey hair and is ruddy complexioned.

When last seen he was wearing a white shirt, overalls and a straw hat.

People from Garrison notified Sheriff Claus A. Theorin of Santorp's disappearance early this afternoon. Sheriff Theorin immediately notified the Daily Dispatch and had a description of the missing man broadcast over the radio.

People of the community have been searching for some time and a group of boys camping on Mille Lacs Lake, not far distant, were added to the searching party today.

BYRD'S CHIEF ENGINEER SPEAKS OF ENGINES

Chief Engineer T. B. Mulroy, of the Byrd Antarctic Expedition, disclosed interesting aspects of the long, successful battle to reach the South Pole, to officials of the Tide Water Oil Company, recently. Mr. Mulroy, who had charge of both the marine and airplane engines of the expedition, said:

"We had a great variety of engine equipment with us on the expedition, and we met with extreme climatic conditions, from tropic heat to sub-zero cold. It was a severe test of both engines and lubricants. We had, however, not a single case of engine failure during the whole trip, thanks to the flawless performance of Tide Water Products.

"During the long sea voyage, southward across the Equator from the United States, through tropical seas, then through the ice belt of the Ross Sea, our engines worked to perfection. Veedol, the lubricant used, stood the test.

"When we were locked in the ice, and buried under the snows of a fierce, Antarctic winter, our engines operated with remarkable efficiency whenever we started them up for any purpose.

"Tide Water products in general, we found, performed just as reliably in the frozen Antarctic as they did in the withering, oven-like heat of the Equator."

BITES HELD FOR NEGRO LAWYER

Bemidji Attorney Was Born in Slavery; Worked Way to Top

Born in slavery and rising to the eminence of an attorney, Charles W. Scrutchin, negro, was buried at Bemidji yesterday, says the Bemidji Daily Pioneer. Bemidji members of the bar were in active charge of the services, with P. J. Russell, veteran attorney, giving the oration. Many lawyers of northern Minnesota were in attendance.

More than 70 years ago, Mr. Scrutchin was born on a Virginia plantation of slave parents whom he never knew. A few years later came the Civil war, bringing freedom for the young negro boy.

As he approached manhood, Scrutchin migrated to the then frontier country of Minnesota to escape the handicap his race would have imposed on him in his native state. While working as a waiter in cafes in Minneapolis and St. Paul, then small cities, Scrutchin slowly mastered the educational requirements for admission to the law school at the University of Michigan.

When the time came for him to be graduated, he was at the head of his class, and was awarded honors for scholastic brilliance.

Then he returned to Minnesota, and 31 years ago began the practice of law in Bemidji. During the intervening years until his death Monday, he accumulated considerable property, and built up a wide practice and an enviable record as an attorney.

PUTNEY SENTENCE IS SUSPENDED

Breezy Point Truck Driver Appears Before Judge Ryan on Charge of Grand Larceny

DIAMOND ROBBERY

Mrs. W. H. Fawcett and Boy's Mother Testify in Case; Boy Had Good Record

Jesse W. Putney, 20, truck driver at Breezy Point, was sentenced by Judge M. E. Ryan in district court this morning to five years of hard labor at the state reformatory at St. Cloud after he pleaded guilty to the charge of grand larceny in the first degree. The sentence was then indefinitely suspended.

Putney took a diamond ring, insured at $4,000 from the bedroom of Mrs. W. H. Fawcett at Breezy Point on Thursday evening, July 10. Owing to the fact that neither Mrs. Fawcett nor the insurance company wanted to press the charges and since it was the first time that the boy had ever been in trouble the sentence was suspended.

Putney in his testimony in district court this morning stated he could give no reason for taking the ring as he knew at the time he was doing wrong. He was in Mrs. Fawcett's bedroom for a period of about five minutes and said that the ring was lying on the table near her bed along with two other rings and a necklace. He was able to give no reason as to why he didn't take the remainder of the jewelry.

He took the ring when he and eight other employees were being shown through the Fawcett home, directly across from the main lodge at Breezy Point. He began to work at Breezy Point on June 21 of this year. He testified that he was a high school graduate and had taken one year's work at the State Teacher's college in St. Cloud. He was employed at an oil station at his home in Becker before going to Breezy Point.

It was at this filing station that he first met Mrs. Fawcett. He fixed a tire for her and she asked him to drive her on in to Minneapolis. Putney did and she told him to let her know if he ever wanted work.

The boy's mother stated in court this morning that Jesse together with her other children had never before caused her any trouble and that they had always been true and faithful.

Mrs. W. H. Fawcett when called on the stand said that she had suspected this boy from the time of the robbery until he confessed and she had him watched by two house officers from the time the ring was stolen at 5 p. m. until he confessed at 1 a. m. and led officials to where he had hidden the ring.

Putney was first arraigned in municipal court before Judge J. H. Warner. Through his attorney, F. E. Murphy of the firm of Murphy and Cook, Crosby, he waived examination and was taken immediately to district court for trial before Judge M. E. Ryan.

AUXILIARY BAND TO PLAY AT CO. FAIR

Problem of Handling Large Number of Club Boys and Girls Considered

The Brainerd American Legion Auxiliary band was engaged at a meeting of the directors of the Crow Wing county fair recently, and members are making plans for a number of features in connection with their music. These will include various drills and a Swedish comedy feature in dress-up among other things.

One of the things that is giving the fair board concern is the problem of housing and caring for the large number of farm club boys and girls who are planning upon attending the fair to make exhibits and demonstrate their work. Last year about 100 boys and girls were entertained as guests of the fair. This year, Fred Johnson, county club leader, states that he believes there will be from 200 to 250 club members in attendance.

The fair dates are August 21, 22 and 23, and within the next week or two announcement will be made of the program of free acts.

3 LEAD CONTEST IN 4-DAY PERIOD

Doris Geist, Laura Racine and Arlene Hagberg Have Each Lead for Short Time

With the halfway mark past in the Daily Dispatch-Publix Popular Girl contest the balloting is spirited and the lead has changed three times in the past four days. The Misses Doris Geist, Laura Racine and Arlene Hagberg have each led at one time or another during the past four days. The total of other candidates has also been steadily mounting and may become a serious menace to the three leaders.

Miss Brainerd and 19 other girls selected as their city's most popular representatives will make the joyous vacation trip next month from Minneapolis to Alaska with all expenses paid.

Ballots for your choice are given with each adult admission at the Paramount theatre and also for new subscriptions to the Daily Dispatch.

Girls boosting their totals in the contest through getting subscriptions to the Dispatch will be rewarded for their efforts whether or not they win the contest. The Daily Dispatch will pay a commission for all new subscriptions so that the entrant's time is profitably spent no matter what the result of the race.

Body of Perry A. Gough Taken to Minneapolis for Burial After Funeral in Deerwood

The remains of Perry A. Gough, respected old Cuyuna range resident, were taken to Minneapolis yesterday for burial in Lakewood cemetery. The funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon from his home, Rev. C. M. Brandon, pastor of the Episcopal church here officiating.

The pallbearers were Dr. S. S. Shannon, Crosby; Dr. Wm. Reed, John Oberg, Paul Hale, Tom Cole, B. Magoffin, Jr., of Deerwood.

Mr. Gough, a resident of the Cuyuna range since 1909, died Monday night at his home in Deerwood from a complication of maladies at the age of 82. During his active days, he had had widely extended mining interests, including some at Duluth.

Mr. Gough was born in Clonmel, county Tipperary, Ireland, March 9, 1848, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Gough. After a number of years in South America and in India, where he was connected with the British forestry service, he came to St. Louis, Mo. Since that time he had devoted his time to mining interests in that city, Pittsburgh, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and in Duluth. He had resided on the Cuyuna range since coming here 21 years.
